

Aspire Defence congratulates Holleran

The Multi Utility contract with MUJV (Thames Water EDF Joint Venture) is now halfway through in its second year. The works, which include the installation of new sewerage, water, high voltage and street lighting infrastructure, have been challenging particularly as Holleran staff are continually working around and liaising with a number of other civil and building contractors to safely deliver the works on the six sites that make up Project Allenby.

Holleran is part of the team of contractors delivering this £2bn 35 year PFI Aspire Defence project that will provide accommodation for over 18,000 military personnel in and around Aldershot Military Town and locations on Salisbury Plain in Wiltshire over the next eight years. Currently, delivery is on programme and using a single contractor is proving to be a wise choice due to the complex nature of the sites.

All the new works are on brown field sites within existing MoD bases, where knowledge and location of existing underground services has been difficult to determine at times.

Holleran was delighted to be awarded four Safety & Environmental Certificates of Achievement by Aspire Defence during September 2007. The Certificates were presented by Robbie Campbell, Managing Director of MUJV and Mike Ward, Aspire Construction Manager to Holleran staff on 8th October 2007:

1	Holleran/Mark White	Safety &amp; Environment Best Trade Contractor
2	Wayne Hay	Bulford Camp Gold Award Individual Winner
3	Glenn Housell	Individual Runner-up
4	Paul Seager & Terry Wells	Safe Excavations &amp; Zero Utility Damage
5	Billy McAvoy	Tidworth Camp Gold Award Individual Winner

Billy McAvoy's father Alan also received his Gold Award in August.
